The image shows the official NASA website homepage. At the top left is the NASA logo. Along the top navigation bar are links for "HOME", "MISSIONS", "ABOUT", "NASA TV", "GALLERIES", "DOWNLOADS", "NASA AUDIENCES", and "FOLLOW NASA" (with icons for Facebook, Instagram, and Twitter). A small checkmark icon is also present. Below the navigation is a large banner with two side-by-side images. The left image shows a black hole with a bright, multi-colored accretion disk and a long, luminous jet extending from its center. The right image shows a large asteroid or comet streaking across the sky, with Earth visible in the background. Below each image is a caption: "Black Hole Sun: The End Times" and "Asteroid to Hit Earth Before Election". A horizontal ellipsis (three dots) is positioned between the two images. At the bottom of the page is a blue footer bar with the text "More Stories" and several links: "No Fear Act", "POIA", "Privacy", and "Contact NASA". The NASA logo is also located in the bottom right corner of the footer.
